Completed December, 2002*

Coastal Carolina Center for Urology and Surgery is the newest addition to Rivertown Medical Park, in Conway, South Carolina.

The physicians of Coastal Urology Center wanted to provide for a patient-friendly and contemporary design, along with very efficient planning. In a building footprint of only 10,000 square feet, this surgery center includes two large Operating Rooms and a dedicated Cysto Room, plus three additional large treatment rooms. The design groups the major rooms so that procedures can be directed both to the sterile corridor spaces, and also to non-restricted procedure rooms, each with very direct access from all critical staff support spaces.

Nurses Station has direct access to both pre-op and recovery spaces, for staff efficiency.
