

UNION FAMILY PRACTICE MEDICAL OFFICES

Monroe, North Carolina

The Union Family Practice Medical Offices incorporates traditional design elements in a contemporary structure for a setting in suburban Charlotte North Carolina.

This new medical office building for a group of Family Practice physicians grew out of a commitment made by Carolinas HealthCare System to reinforce the primary care practices in their physician network.

Union Family Practice needed a more functional setting, as well as to expand its presence in a growing community, and prepare for additional physicians to join the practice.

The Hunter Group Architects had worked with the hospital system to develop a new planning approach. The goals were to develop efficient, consistent, functional plans, and patient-friendly atmosphere in its physician network buildings.

This new 20,000 square foot building provides medical offices for eight Family Practice physicians, and includes expansion space for four additional physicians. The plan includes diagnostic and testing spaces for Lab and Radiology, and other spaces to support their involvement with Family Practice Residency functions and related needs.
